Free Willy-Keiko Foundation Release Keiko Tribute DVD

The twelve-minute short commemorates the 10th anniversary of Keiko's release to Iceland and features never before screened film footage of Keiko's life.

Portland, Ore. – Joshua Records, LLC in association with the Free Willy-Keiko Foundation announced today the release of a twelve-minute short film commemorating the 10th anniversary of Keiko's release into his home waters in the North Atlantic where he thrived before his death in 2003. The film score, composed by Executive Producer Theresa Demarest and Portland musicians Tim Ellis and Jean-Pierre Garau, provides a sensational, emotive backdrop to the never before screened film footage of Keiko's life. The Keiko Tribute DVD is a preview to the documentary Keiko's Dream...Keiko's Legacy (the true story of the star of Free Willy), which will be released in spring 2009. The DVD is available for purchase online at www.theresacd.com and www.filmbaby.com and retails for $10.

"Keiko's life story and his will to survive touched millions of people," says Theresa Demarest, executive producer Keiko's Dream...Keiko's Legacy (the true story of the star of Free Willy.) "In this tribute, we share exceptional film footage, music and interviews with leading marine mammal scientists that is truly inspirational and educational."

About Keiko's Dream...Keiko's Legacy (the true story of the star of Free Willy)

Keiko's Dream...Keiko's Legacy is a documentary film, which explores Keiko's life including his capture, his career as a movie star, his recovery at Oregon Coast Aquarium and his return home to Iceland. The film features rare film footage, a composed musical score and interviews with prominent experts Mark Berman, associate director of Free Willy Keiko Foundation, Dr. Naomi Rose, marine mammal scientist for The Humane Society of the United States, and Dr. Paul Spong, founder of OrcaLab. The film is being produced by Joshua Records, LLC of Portland, Oregon by Executive Producer Theresa Demarest.
